

09/914215

JCS Reel 000000 23 AUG 2001

Abstract

The invention concerns a towable non-powered nautical device lifled at the front when pulled and sometimes altogether lifted out of the water for practising an aquatic leisure sport. The invention concerns a nautical device capable of carrying several persons. It consists of: a front inflatable struture(1) equipped in ist lower part with an element enabling it to be towed (6) , at least two inflatable elongated secondary stuctures (2) , at least an inflatable elongated tertiary structure (3,31,32), retaining means (5) for passengers standing, seated, lying down or astride on the secondary structure(S), on each side of a flexible laréral skirt(7).